SCAFFOLD IS SUGGESTED AS BEST MEMORIAL

Col. Cheshire Suggests the Erection of Scaffold on Highest Peak in the Mountains for Miss Parsons's Murderer.

Pineville, Ky., Feb. 8. — Writing in the Citizen, Col. J. Cheshire says: "In the name of all the gods at once, I ask if you people of Eastern Kentucky are going to sit idly by and not attempt to ferret out the ravisher of Lura Parsons. You people who put the honor of woman above everything else in this woe ridden world. Because the court has not convicted any one, are you going to give up before justice is meted out to the man who committed one of the most horrible crimes in the annals of the history of this great state?"

"Well meaning women are getting together a fund to erect a shaft to the memory of this martyr of man's lust. But like the master of old said: 'They know not what to do.'"

"They should contribute a fund to build a scaffold on the highest peak of Pine Mountain and let that scaffold stand a silent witness to the unspeakable crime committed there and remain intact until justice brings to it the man who has outraged Lura Parsons, brutally murdered her—at one fell swoop hurled into eternity a pure soul, and cast a shadow over this state that all time cannot efface. And this fiend is yet unpunished."

"We boast of our super-civilization; we prattle of justice, and yet an atrocity is committed under our very nose and we stand aside and let George do it, when the time comes to bring to the bar of justice a fiend who has stained the mountainside with the blood of a good woman."

"No, people don't build a shaft to her memory—be ashamed of yourself. If Lura Parsons could speak out from the great beyond she would not ask for a monument. No, she would ask, I think, that her body repose in rest in a soon to be forgotten spot where the west winds carry sweet melodies and Heaven's star-domed concave ever keeps watch and ward over its own."

PASTOR RESTS FOR

BIG REVIVAL.
Rev. John A. Davis, pastor of the First Baptist church, and wife left today for Knoxville, Tenn., where they will visit relatives and the pastor will rest for a couple of weeks prior to the opening of a special series of evangelistic services at the local church.

WATER COMPANY IS NOW WELL EQUIPPED

Troubles Over Water Should Be at an End for Maysville With Completion of Up-to-date Equipment.

The new modern electric pumping station of the Maysville Water Company has just been completed and Maysville can be credited with having the most modern pumping station in the state. It is the first electric pumping equipment in the state and Mr. Fieldhouse, the designer and superintendent of construction, has had many inquiries from water companies for the plans of the local station which was recently written up at length in the Water Works Journal.

The new system is quite a contrast to the old steam plant which had been in use for years and which has been sold for junk.

Mr. Fieldhouse announces that the public is at any time at liberty to visit the pumping station and any question asked will be answered. The pumps operate from 8:45 p. m. to 6:45 a. m. each day and all day Sunday.

The company has gone to much expense to install this plant and is now endeavoring to give the best service possible to insure the city of plenty of water at all times and with the installation of the new turbine by the Maysville Power Company there is no question of being out of power. Mr. Fieldhouse, who has been recently made general manager, promises to give to the public the best service possible and has opened offices at room 11 State National Bank building. The executive staff at present is composed of the following: H. C. Sharp, president; Elizabeth D. Calvert, Secretary-Treasurer; M. Y. Fieldhouse, General Manager; Frank Hunsicker, meters and service; Louis Wohlber, street service; and Thomas Wagner, station engineer.

OHIO STATE FAIR WANTS

PRICE FROM HOYS' BAND.

Colonel J. Harboure Russell this morning received a letter from N. E. Shaw, Secretary of Agriculture of the State of Ohio, asking for a proposition from the Maysville Boys' Band to submit. Secretary Shaw wants a price on music for six days from August 29th to September 3rd. A proposition will be returned immediately and effort will be made to land this State Fair contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr, of Portsmouth, Ohio, arrived here this afternoon for a visit with relatives and friends.

PORTRAIT OF FAMED MAYSVILLIAN IS OF- FERED TO CITY AS GIFT

Relative of Aaron Houghton Corwine, Maysville Artist, Offers Oil Painting to the City — Will Be Accepted.

Mayor Thomas M. Russell has just received a letter from Wm. R. Corwine, Secretary of the American Dyes Institute of New York City, informing him that his aunt, the widow of Judge Richard Mortimer Corwine, is about to give up her home in Washington City and go abroad to make her home with her son-in-law, a British naval officer, in London. In her possession is a very valuable oil painting of Aaron Houghton Corwine, one of the most famous of Maysville's sons, so far as is known, the only Maysvillian who made a world-wide reputation as an artist. This oil painting Mr. Corwine offers to the city of Maysville as a gift from his aunt.

Aaron Houghton Corwine was one of the most famous sons of Maysville and was a member of a very famous family, many of his brothers having made wonderful successes in life. One brother, Jacob Houghton Corwine, founded the old Maysville Eagle and his son, Richard Mortimer Corwine, who was born in Maysville, moved to Ohio and became famous. He was a Major in the Civil War and served as Judge Advocate. He was one of the delegates to the Chicago convention which broke the dead-lock and nominated Abraham Lincoln for President, the famous Mr. Elihu being the other. It is the widow of this Judge Richard Corwine, who practiced law in Washington until his death, who offers to make this gift of her husband's uncle's portrait to the city of Maysville.

Of Aaron Houghton Corwine history says: "He was an artist of considerable reputation, migrating from Maysville, Mason county, Ky., at an early age. He at once took rank among the very first of his profession. His portraits were noted for truthfulness to the original, and to this day are highly prized by the families in Cincinnati who are their fortunate possessors. He started for Italy in the early part of 1829 to perfect his art, but upon his arrival in London his delicate health, which had become much impaired by the London voyage, induced him to return to America which he barely reached before his death which occurred at Philadelphia in 1830."

"Aaron Corwine was the son of Amos Corwine. Aaron was born about 1780. His father migrated from Hopewell, Hunterdon county, New Jersey, to Mason county, Ky., in 1788, and settled with his family in the last-named place. Aaron was the youngest of six children. He was apparently born in New Jersey and went with his father and family to Mason county at an early age. He developed considerable skill as an artist early in life."

There is now hanging in the Public Library an oil portrait of Aaron Corwine painted by himself as he sat looking into a bucket of water for his own features. The portrait has been badly damaged by the two fires which have visited the library.

The family of Judge C. D. Newell and the family of Mr. George H. Frank are both connected with the Corwine family.

Mayor Russell today wrote to Mr. Corwine in New York, in behalf of the city, accepting the portrait, which when received will be hung in the public library in Sutton street with appropriate ceremonies.

A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

The entertainment given Monday afternoon by Mrs. William H. Cox in honor of Mrs. Earl Wheat, to the King's Daughters of the Episcopal church, was an affair long to be remembered. Mrs. Wheat, in a gracious, charming way, gave an interesting instructive talk on "Student Life at West Point," and illustrated it with beautiful pictures explaining clearly the location of the most important buildings and the wonderful architecture our government owns there.

An offering was taken for the benefit of the starving little children in Europe and the King's Daughters were gratified that the sum given will provide nourishing good food for three tons until the next harvest time. Delicious refreshments were served and the meeting was closed by Master Earl Wheat giving the military salute.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP

TOUR AGAIN PROPOSED.

The Lexington Leader says: Preparations for the Spring "Good-Fellowship Tour" to be conducted by Lexington business men will be launched within the next few weeks. The success of the trip through Central Kentucky last year has not been forgotten and several members of the Board of Commerce have asked that plans for this year's tour be taken up early.

ADOPTION OF CIVIL SERVICE DEFERRED

Councilmen Take Another Month to Think Over Recommendations of Police Committee and Chief.

The meeting of City Council held Monday evening was a very quiet affair. Little aside from regular routine business was transacted.

Mayor Russell announced to Council that City Attorney Daly and others were preparing a suit to test the city's rank before the Court of Appeals and that it would be brought in time for the March term of the Mason Circuit Court. City Attorney Daly was authorized to employ additional legal talent in the suit and was also granted a leave of absence.

The recent recommendations of Chief of Police Orr that the police be required to qualify for office by passing an examination on the city and state laws and the general duties of policemen which has been asked by the Police Committee was presented to Council but upon motion action was deferred until the March meeting of the city fathers.

Upon motion, the city will borrow enough money to discharge the bonds on the old brick streets now outstanding and the City Attorney was authorized to institute suit against property owners who have failed to pay their apportionments.

WINTER IN FLORIDA.

Judge Dudley W. Gardner, wife and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jane, Miss Dorothy Wilson Stewart, of Flemingsburg, and Miss Elizabeth Coleman, of Mt. Sterling, composed a party of tourists to spend the remainder of the winter in Florida. They left over the Q. & C. out of Lexington, Tuesday morning. Mrs. Gardner will visit her sister, Mrs. Frederick Ostermoeller, at Tampa, formerly Miss Alexine Russell Filson of this city.

Mrs. Jerome Wade Stewart, accompanied her daughter, Miss Dorothy, to join her suit's family in Lexington and will spend several months sight-seeing in Florida. Mrs. Stewart returned Wednesday evening.

BASE BALL.

On Wednesday evening, February 9 at 7 p. m. there will be a meeting held at the Model Restaurant for the purpose of organizing a Base Ball Club for the coming season.

Every baseball player and any local fans interested are requested to be present. Let's go and help the boys organize for the coming season.

Maysville has the talent and there is no reason why we should not have one of the best amateur clubs in Kentucky.

UNABLE TO TELL WHERE HE PURCHASED LEMON.

John Kennedy, who was sent to jail Monday afternoon by Judge Whitaker on a contempt of court charge when he failed to tell from whom he had procured a quantity of lemon extract upon which he became intoxicated, was released late Monday by Judge Whitaker.

SMOKE HOUSE FIRE.

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Hauke in Forest avenue shortly after supper Monday evening to extinguish a small blaze in a smoke house. Damage was only slight.

DR. TAYLOR DOING QUITE SATISFACTORILY.

Reports today from Dr. A. O. Taylor, who underwent a surgical operation at the Jewish Hospital in Cincinnati Monday, were to the effect that he was getting along nicely.

THE NEW HOME FOR CHILDREN TO BE MEMORIAL

People of Mason County Urged To Contribute to Fund For Building New Home For Orphans.

The Kentucky Children's Home Society was organized as a private enterprise in Louisville twenty-five years ago and grew so rapidly that it was forced to ask aid from the Kentucky legislature, becoming in a sense a semi-public institution. It is managed by a Board of Directors, one-third of whom are appointed by the Governor of Kentucky, the remainder being elected by the Board, thus constituting an impartial, self-perpetuating body of directors. The present state board of managers is as follows: Judge Robert W. Hingham, Dr. E. I. Powell, Judge Walter P. Lincoln, Thomas H. Ewing, Judge Harry W. Robinson, Leon Abraham, Charles Van-Cleave, W. W. Davies, Dr. Chas. W. Welch, Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, Mrs. George L. Danforth, Mrs. Arthur Kaye, Wm. K. Clark, Alex. W. Tippet, Lee Miles, Mrs. A. T. Bert, all of Louisville; W. G. Simpson, Frankfort; George C. Long, Hopkinsville; J. Whit Potter, Bowling Green; W. W. Duffield, Harlan; B. P. Pursey, Ashland; Judge Hugh Riddell, Irvine; J. Ed. Parker, Maysville; Judge Paul Gardner, Maysville; H. B. Bryson, Carlisle; Joe Brondner, Fulton; S. L. Marshall, Henderson; Dr. A. Vioer, Paducah; Mayor John Calhoun, Owensboro; J. McV. Shreve, Greensburg; W. J. Sparks, Mt. Vernon; A. J. Oliver, Louisville; John J. Redmon, North Middletown; William B. Moody, New Castle.

At present, the home is located at 1065 Baxter avenue, Louisville, but it long since outgrew its present accommodations. Notwithstanding, the many national appeals calls for funds during the war the directors decided it to be absolutely imperative that a new plant arranged to meet the growing needs of the society be procured, accordingly 86 acres of land, ten miles from Louisville at Lyndon, Ky., have been procured and $150,000 of the necessary $300,000 for buildings has been assured.

However, the new home is planned as memorial for the school children of Kentucky who have good homes, for the benefit of those without homes. Therefore, the required amount has been proportioned to the various counties of the state and all who feel an interest in homeless, orphaned, destitute children will be asked to have some part in providing a real home for them. The people of Maysville are asked to make their contribution on the 15th and 16th of this month.

DAUGHTER OF LOCAL PASTOR ARRIVES IN JAPAN

Daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen and Her Husband Arrive in Japan as Missionaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Beatty arrived safely in Japan on January 22 according to information just received by Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen, parents of Mrs. Beatty. They will no immediately to Tokio where they will be stationed and will begin their work as missionaries in the immediate future.

Mr. and Mrs. Beatty spent several days in Maysville just before sailing and Mr. Beatty preached his last sermon before sailing in the local Christian church.

Aside from the interest Maysvillians will take in the success of Mr. and Mrs. Beatty's work in Japan because of the relationship to the popular pastor of the local Christian church, the members of that congregation will be especially interested because Mrs. Beatty's expenses on the foreign field are being paid by the Maysville Christian church.

SPECIAL SERVICES TO MARK OPENING OF LENT TOMORROW

Services Will Be Held During the Lenten Season at St. Patrick's and the Church of the Nativity—Tomorrow Is Ash Wednesday.

Tomorrow is Ash Wednesday and the solemn season of forty days self-examination, penitence, and building up of nature to higher ideals is at hand.

The Church of the Nativity will have two services each week—Wednesday and Friday at 4 p. m. in the chapel, entrance through the gate to the east of the main building.

It is an undisputed fact that Jesus Christ, the Son of God, found it necessary to go into a quiet place to meditate, prepare and school himself by the means of prayer, abstinence and Holy Living so that He might have strength to resist when the temptation of the world came to him. This is just the full meaning of Lent. If He needed to do this thing then it will do others good to follow His example.

Lent will be opened Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church by Solmen High Mass and the blessing of the ashes at 8 o'clock. During the remainder of Lent special services will be held at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday and Friday. On Wednesday the services will consist of a sermon and the benediction and on Fridays the service will consist of the Way of the Cross and the benediction.

BURIED HERE TODAY.

The body of Dennis Donovan, who died at his home in Chicago last week, was brought here last night and burial was made in the Washington Cemetery this morning.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE PLIGHT OF THE RAILROADS.

The railroads of the United States, through General Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, have appealed to the Railroad Labor Board for the abrogation of the national agreements entered into between the roads and their employees at the instance of the government and under its control.

General Atterbury insisted that the question of what constitutes reasonable and economical rules and working conditions, must be left in the power of the different roads, and determined after negotiation between the carriers and their employees.

The rules and regulations forced on the roads during the war emergency General Atterbury argued, entailed gross waste and produced fatal inefficiency. It appears to him that unless immediate action is taken calamity is certain to occur. Roads will, in a very short time, under present conditions, be clamoring for receiverships, and a crisis will be precipitated whose end no one could foresee.

"It rests," he said, "entirely with the board to say whether the whole situation shall drift into chaos, and orderly procedure become impossible, except at the price of bankruptcy, financial shock and still wider unemployment."

The railroads have emphatically refused to negotiate with the men themselves, on the plea that there is ruin in delay, and no prospect of any agreement within a reasonable time. Action must be quick and decisive to avert disaster.

This news will come as a shock to the general public. Everybody knew that railroad earnings were falling off rapidly, and that the carriers were finding it difficult to borrow money, but that the tangle had become so complete and that the greatest single industry in the country, on which every other depends, was brought to an extremity and already seized by a feeling of panic, was a totally unexpected development.

It is unquestionably true that the efficiency of labor was lowered in the railroad industry during the war; that waste was everywhere in evidence; that trackage and rolling stock and motive power ran down; and that demoralization ensued upon the exercise of government control.

The government did not, as it was pledged to do, protect the roads and the stockholders with scrupulous care.

But that the cure for all the evils of which General Atterbury speaks is to be sought in the reduction of forces and a decrease in wage scales is not at once clear. This may or may not be the case.

It is of course proper that the trainmen, in common with men of all trades, must have living wages and this principal must steadfastly be adhered to. On the other hand, it must be conceded by all reasonable men that the employees of the great railway lines must stand upon all fours with men in other trades and occupations, and they must take the same course in the industrial world which all workers take. There should be no partiality between working men any more than there should be favoritism as between "bosses."

"PLENTY OF BUSINESS."

"As to business—there is plenty of business for those who go after it," says Edwin Hobby, vice president of the Security National Bank of Dallas. His remarks and hopeful advice regarding conditions in that section of the country are not without interest to business men in this and other sections of the country. Writing in the monthly review of his bank he says:

"Business is better than reported. One of the largest retailers of Dallas told me that the last three months of 1920 had been the best months in number of sales made. His profits were lower, due to 'taking his loss,' but it indicated a healthy viewpoint on the part of the buyer.

"One of the most gratifying things in the present situation is the small number of failures following in the wake of the decline of prices.
Some concerns that had only hoped to break even at the end of the year are paying large bonuses to their employees, as in previous years, and facing the future with serene confidence.

"This shows that our merchants were fully aware of the temporary nature of the high-price period, and made their plans to meet the decline. Now that it has come they have cleared their stocks of merchandise bought at the high-tide and are ready to start off on the new low level basis to meet the demands of the buying public, without hesitancy.

"The enormous yield of the past harvest has given us ample supplies of food and feed and other commodities and in my opinion it is only a question of finding an equitable exchange basis as between our raw materials and manufactured products when business will be resumed on a pre-war basis. We cannot expect a man to willingly sell five pounds of raw wool for two or three dollars and buy it back in the form of an overcoat at $100.

"Any man, however, can readily see that such a condition cannot continue to exist for long, and that before many days conditions will right themselves."—Wall Street Journal.

SPEAKING OF DEFLATION.

Bank reserves are mounting; loans decreasing; note circulation diminishing; money rates easing; wholesale commodity prices falling, etc. Bankers admit that deflation is proceeding all along the line.
However, some retail prices are stubborn and the public will believe the cost of living has come down when the Wall street clerk is again seen blossoming forth in the two-dollar hat; a 15-cent collar; a half-dollar tie; a twenty-five-dollar suit; a dollar shirt; a quarter pair of socks; a three-dollar pair of "kicks"; a nickel shine; a quarter haircut, and a fifteen-cent shave. When he can get a nickel sandwich for lunch; more peanuts and less bag; a "good" nickel cigar, and go home at night and find friend wife has been able to again buy the full-sized 5-cent loaf. Then deflation will have run its course.—Wall Street Journal.

New York
Letter
by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — "This sounds like stories of The Old Home Town where neighborly methods prevail, which are presumed to be forgotten in this metropolis. But it happened right here on Manhattan Island just the same.
The traffic cop at Broadway and Park Place, one of the tumultuous corners of the city, found a woman's glove near his post the other day. It was a good glove and he decided to advertise
it. So on the fire alarm box at Park Place and Broadway he placed a large piece of card board. On this he wrote, "Found, a lady's glove. Traffic Officer."

State Senator Reichman and Assemblyman Gempfer, both of Brooklyn, have introduced a measure into the state legislature ordering traction companies of the large cities of the state to furnish street cars exclusivly for women during the rush hours.
Protests are expected from the women who have been a lucky average in having male car riders give their seats to them, and from the people who love to write letters to the papers decrying the dying of chivalry as demonstrated by the men who sit still.

Benjamin Levine is completely off'n alarm clocks. The other day he resolved to cease being late to work.
He'd get him an alarm. So he did. In a crowded department store. There were no clerks looking at the time, so he slipped a particularly good one into his pocket and started for the street. But the store detective thought she saw the clock disappear. She charged Benjamin with being a party to the disappearance, but he assured her valiantly that she was mistaken.
It was just 4:33 p. m., a supposedly quiet hour for alarm clocks; but even while its new owner was declaring his innocence, out from his pocket sounded his ringing b-r-r-r-r. And it was all off for Benjamin Levine. They put his bail at $500.

Ferry Corvey, the musical elow has received 47 patents upon novel musical instruments or apparatus for tricks of illusion. Corvey not only makes his own drawings and models, but the instruments themselves. He has a workshop and works away at new music creators a considerable part of his time. In spite of his frivolous-sounding profession of being a clown, Corvey is a graduate of a Chinese technical school.

A young man who doesn't get many minutes during the day to write anything but most business-like business letters, was getting one important personal letter done the other morning on the subway. A man sitting next to him was the sort who MUST read over one's shoulder, whether it's papers or letters. The young man joggled him; no result. So he went on with this letter in those words: "There is a big, fat man, reading this letter over my shoulder. He is getting red now and uncomfortable. Maybe this will be a lesson to him."

Mary Garden, in a box at the Manhattan Opera House, created almost more attention the other night than Mary Garden as the prima donna had done on the nights she has sung during these early days of the Chicago Opera Co., in our midst. It was as the new general director that she was receiving calls and homs and the whole audience enjoyed it. Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, was one of those who stopped at her box to offer congratulations.

There were 18 nationalities among the 748 steering passengers who landed from the liner Saturnia the other day.

Juries do occasionally reach the point of revolting. They have had to sit through some pretty different cases recently in New York; and when they were asked as a part of a divorce trial, to unravel the wife's personal accounts of her $14,000 a year allowance, they tried for ten hours to do their duty. Then they rose in a body and declared that the judge would have to make over their job himself;
they were only human, and their limit had been reached.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back?
In the "small," right over the hips?
That's the home of backache.
If it's caused by weak kidneys,
Use Doan's Kidney Pills.
Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it:
Mrs. B. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood

KICK OF MULE MAY CAUSE MAN'S DEATH.

Richmond. — While James Cottington, was unhooking his mule after the day's work was done, the animal kicked him in the stomach. He was brought to a hospital and an operation performed, but surgeons say the injuries probably will cause death.

ALLEYED HORETHIEF IS OVERTAKE NAXD HEL DOVER.

Greenup. — Summoning the sheriff
A. M. Crider tracked a horse stolen from his stable to Raceoon ridge, recovering the animal. A man giving the name of Roy Hall, New Boston, O., was pursued to Laurel Ridge, arrested and is held on $1,000 bond on the charge of having stolen the horse.

Thompson's Barosma Kidney Tablets.

Are the result of a great deal of medical research and study.
Thompson's Kidney Tablets are composed of the drugs that have proved themselves in past years the most effective for kidney and bladder diseases, combined with the newly discovered drugs and chemicals that have made great advancement in the treatment of the kidneys and bladder. They also act upon the liver.

If you have any indication of kidney,
liver or bladder trouble, backache, sideache, shallow complexion or nervousness, we want you to try the Tablets on these liberal terms: Purchase a box of Thompson's Barosma Kidney Tablets from J. J. Wood & Son, and if you are not greatly benefited after taking the tablets, return the empty box to J. J. Wood & Son and they will cheerfully return your money. Price 60 cents.

If you are constipated or bilious

WASHINGTON LETTER.

By J. E. JONES.

Tightening Up Gentlemen's Agreements.

Senator Hiram Johnson is no doubt quite ready to agree to the proposal made some weeks ago by Senator Penrose that the management of foreign relations be taken over by the Senate. If it needed anything to convince the Californian to that belief, he has been furnished ample grounds for disapproval of the State Department policy in the diplomatic collaborations of our own State Department with the Japanese. California insists that it is quite capable of making its own laws in such a way as to protect its citizens from being overruled by the yellow race. The Californians find very little difference of opinion among themselves regarding this solemn question. It has been charged that in past years, particularly in the early days of the Roosevelt and Taft administrations, that the Californians exhibited something of a jingo spirit concerning the hordes of the Japs. The western state has therefore very calmly and deliberately fortified itself against any criticism of this kind in the passage of what it regards as a thoroughly American law to meet the conditions with which it has to deal. Senator Johnson in condemning the "tightening up of a gentlemen's agreements" with Japan says that "resort is had not to American courts, but to American diplomats." He is sustained generally in Washington in the charge that he makes to the effect that the State Department is ruthlessly overriding the acts of the people of the State of California. And the peppery Californian does not propose to stand for it.

There is no disguising the fact that our relations with Japan have been taut for some time. One is reminded of the old boast made by Mexicans that they could whip the United States if they could only get through Texas. If they could get through Texas, the Japanese entertain an equal confidence. "If they could get through California." And Californians are not at all afraid to have the Japs try it. They realize that they face a crisis in maintaining their racial supremacy, and they are perfectly willing to assume the responsibilities of the situation. The Federal government, on the other hand, is continually trying to mollify the Japs, who are always making unreasonable demands upon the United States respecting the status of the Japanese people in this country. Colby's Junket.

Secretary of State Colby is back from South America, where he traveled in regal splendor, with a battleship to house his party. For successful posing the camer men have never had better subjects than the Colby party. The commercial interests of North and South America have been reaching toward one another in efforts to "get together" for many years. Mr. Colby doubtless felt that during his brief tenure in office he could be spared from Washington to help promote better feeling between the peoples of the western hemisphere, and he therefore organized a junket that traveled fast enough to get him home before any positive announcement was made as to who would be his successor.

The best minds in Washington are agreed that the development of an American merchant marine furnishes the only solution that can be brought to bear in solving this great problem of our foreign trade. A big start was made during the war, but the emergencies that came with fighting left the same trail of waste in the story of shipping that is found in every phase of war activities. The result is that the Shipping Board has become a sort of football, and everyone that has wanted to start something, takes a kick at it; whereas there is doubtless no peace-time agency that could absorb more permanent benefit if given constructive help, than the Shipping Board. Just what the fate of this Government Bureau will be is hard to determine. But given proper support our merchant marine doubtless solves all of our problems of foreign trade.

Proud of His Enemies. Postmaster General Burleson admits his unpopularity. "I believe it to be true that I have more enemies and have been more generally denounced than any of the others," he says. "It has not, however, robbed me of my serenity of mind or spoiled either my disposition or my appetite. You see

CONVINCING PROOF

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Extraordinary Curative Power in Cases of Woman's Ailments

Columbus, O.—"I suffered very much pain during my monthly periods and felt weak and all run down. I tried many remedies and the doctor said I would have to have an operation. Then before my baby was born I had terrible pains in my sides. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me wonderfully. I have had two children since I began taking your medicine and did all of my own work including washing while carrying them. I can also recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may use this letter as a testimonial if you wish."

—Mrs. Thomas L. Conner, 704 West Mount St., Columbus, Ohio.

Such a condition as Mrs. Christy was in points directly to a deranged condition of a woman's system, and by following her example taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, women may be relieved from such ailments and be restored to normal health and strength just as she was.

If there is anything about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., in regard to your health.

I know who my enemies are, how I made them, and why, and the reasons are satisfactory to me." In the list of these enemies Mr. Burleson places the express companies, the railroads and the newspapers and magazines. In his mind they are a bad lot, and even though it may be a fact that they all reciprocate the kind of sentiment that Mr. Burleson expresses and are as non-lovable as the Texas politician, still the reasons for the differences may be entirely distinct. Mr. Burleson asserts that mail is now being delivered to six million more people in the country and five million more in the cities than eight years ago, and that there is "less waste, less fraud and less politics now than ever before."

Mr. Burleson's proud enemies assert that in taking over the wire lines of the country, after the war was over, he did so for the sole purpose of fastening Government ownership on the United States, because it was a pet hobby of his—and not a national necessity. Students of the parcel post system say that in the matter of the carriage of small packages that the express companies still have the most profitable end of the business while Burleson absorbed the unprofitable end. Just what solace the "most unpopular man" finds in his attempts to

"A few minutes more, Peggy dear, and Daddy will be back with the Kemp's Balm. Then you can go to sleep and forget that horrid cold cough!"

KEMP'S BALM Will Stop That Cough hold up the newspapers and magazines of the country, and made their publishers pay unnecessarily high rates, he does not explain.

After all, Mr. Burleson's principal unpopularity is doubtless due to the fact that he cared more to create a surplus in earnings for the Postoffice Department than he did to promote the welfare of the thousands of men whose wage he sought to keep below the actual cost of living. He failed in both instances.

A National Referendum.

The referendum just concluded by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States covering the question of local transportation throughout the country has produced 1,689 votes, cast by local Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the country in the affirmative, on the question: "Existing traction facilities should be conserved." There are no negative votes. The same results attend the vote on the following question: "The attitude now taken towards street railway problems should be based upon the present and future needs of the community." Private ownership with regulation "that will promptly follow changes in the situation," with provision against unfair competition, as well as relief from "all burdens unrelated to the service," are overwhelmingly favored. The referendum also declared in favor of definite official responsibility for the "application of regulation," as well as for the responsibility to the public at all times of "the facts as to the results of operation," and for "resident responsible executives wholly conversant with local requirements."

These referendums, in which the trade bodies of the country have been participating, are interesting inasmuch as they show a disposition to deal with absolute fairness with the public utilities of the country. The political situation has also cleared itself materially, and the policy of "live and let live" appears to govern the attitude of members of the Federal administration, in and out of Congress. Reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Interior Department, all indicate that the country has settled down to a sane determination to encourage private ownership and efficient public regulation, not only of local transportation but of lighting and power plants as well.

All He Got Out of Life.

Senator Fletcher of Florida tells this story in illustrating the difficulties of some people in meeting the problems due to the high cost of living. "A woe-begone creature," said the Senator, "waited that for forty years he had worked hard and that he had got nothing out of life except his clothes and food." "And," according to the Senator, the dissatisfied citizen claimed "his food never agreed with him, and his clothes never fit."

ESTATE OF MILLIONS SHRINKS TO SMALL SUM.

Somerset. The master commissioner is settling the estate of D. J. Anderson, Indian herbalist, who was reputed to be worth a million at his death. After payments of two judgments in favor of his divorced wife and Lincoln Institute, Louisville, a total of $15,000, there remains $13,000 and claims against the estate amount to $75,000. Caused to leave Tennessee, it is alleged, on prosecution for practicing without a state license, he came here penniless. Reputed remarkable cures brought him an interstate practice, and he built a large sanitarium here. None of the numerous bequests in his will can be paid, and the estate will pay fifty cents on the dollar to creditors, it is stated.

JURY TENTATIVELY FILLED IN MATEWAN TRIAL.

Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 8. — Hope was entertained here last night by those interested in the Matewan battle trial, that the taking of testimony in the case would begin this afternoon. A tentative panel of twenty jurors was completed in the Mingo Circuit Court today. The wedding-out process will start tomorrow when counsel for both sides will examine the tentative takers in an effort to secure a jury of twelve to hear evidence in the case of the twenty-one men charged with killing A. Felts in the Matewan fight.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER?

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things With a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality, Need More Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan.

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow."

And tomorrow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around. If you don't feel like yourself, you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale, your blood needs strengthening. You should know about Pepto-Mangan that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid. Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. —Adv.

POLYN REDUCES EXPENSES OF EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 8. — Printing bills have been cut 60 per cent, salaries 2 per cent, and travelling expenses 55 per cent, under Superintendent George Colvin, according to a report on the Department of Education filed today by Henry E. James, State Inspector and Examiner.

Mr. James agrees with the Superintendent that $1,000 a year is not sufficient compensation for School Inspectors and recommends $3,000 salaries for two inspectors.

He criticizes printing bills of former Superintendent V. O. Gilbert, but said his other expenditures were kept within "reasonable bounds."

Mr. J. C. Stevenson who sometime ago was severely injured in a fall, was able to be out today for the first time in many weeks.

CHILDREN PLAY WITH HOLD-UP MEN.

Louisville, Ky. — Three masked men robbed the grocery of S. G. Gordon, forcing the proprietor and wife to stand with arms aloft. Ethel, 5, and Herman, 4, their children, thought the masked men were funmakers.

The laughing little girl embraced the leg of one and laughed only the harder when he attempted to shake her off. Eager to get in the game, Herman swung to the coat of another. The third robber went behind the counter, secured $70 and, when the children had been gaily pushed away, the trio escaped.

BLAST KILLS EIGHT.

Lawrenceville, Ill., Feb. 8.—Authorities investigated today explosion of a can of nitroglycerin which killed a school teacher and seven pupils here yesterday.

The can was found in a brook near the school house and exploded in the hands of one of the children. Teacher and pupils were blown to bits. Parts of their clothing was found scattered about.

The can is believed to have floated downstream. An oil prospector is believed to have tossed it away after he had "shot" a well.
